The Nebraska Bill.

We find the following classification of the vote in the House of Representatives on taktog up the Nebraska Bill, and invite attention to it;

IN THE AFFIRMATIVE.

Democrats from the northern States	41
Democrats from the southern States	54
Whigs from the northern States	09
Whigs from the southern States	14
	109

IN THE NEGATIVE.

Democrats from the northern States	38
Democrats from the southern States	1
Whigs from the northern States	43
Whigs from the southern States	7
	89

ABSENT AND NOT VOTING.

Democrats from the northern States	13
Democrats from the southern States	11
Whigs from the northern States	9
Whigs from the southern States	4
	37

Several features in the above table are worthy of note. Of the whole number voting, 198, there were 134 "democrats," and 64 whigs, or more than twice as many of the former as the latter.—The democratic vote stood 95 for, and 39 against the bill, or more than twice as many for it as against it.

The total whig vote (64) was made up of 43 northern men, and 21 southern men. Not one whig from a free State voted for the bill, while 7 brave, honest men from slave States recorded their names against the iniquity; showing 50 out of 64, in the whig vote, against it.

The total "democratic" vote (134) was made up of 79 from northern States, and 55 from southern States. Only one solitary democrat (Col. Benton) from a slave state voted Nay, while 54 voted Aye. Out of the 79 northern democrats, 41, or a majority of 3, voted for the iniquity.

So much for the first test vote taken. And now, all though this week, the friends of freedom having gained a respite, the discussion will go on, and on Saturday, unless some unexpectedly favorable event shall happen, we shall have another vote, and, one which will mark those who record their names upon it, for the future consideration of an anxiously waiting people. We believe that the bill will pass, for corruption and bribery, threats and promises, have been liberally dispensed by our model northern democratic President, and several of those whose votes were relied upon for freedom have already wavered and gone over to the enemy.

Let the people of the North mark their "representatives" who misrepresent them. Laws can be repealed as well as enacted, and perhaps the North will be aroused by this violation of good faith by the South, brought on and aided by a majority of recreant democratic northern votes, to elect men to the next Congress who will for once make a stand for Freedom.

Having yesterday published an article from the York York Tribune, with regard to the effect of the passage of this bill of abominations, as regarded by the editor of that widely circulated journal, representing the sentiments of the host of northern men, whose hearts beat together in love for freedom, we give to day an article from the Albany Register, a paper which has been among the foremost, within the last two years, in laboring to fill up with doughfaces the gulf which separates Freedom and Slavery, or to bridge it with Compromise Platforms. The Register is not alone in its view of the future consequences of the passage of the Nebraska Bill. Of all the presses of various name and tone, which have maintained the Whig faith according to their understanding of it for long years, not one in all the North—be they "Silver Gray" or "Woolly," or whatever quaint or absurd name they may have given each other—supports, advocates, or countenances for one moment, the Nebraska Bill. Not one!

The Mormon Governor.

The Deseret News, of the 16th ult., brings various documents of a curious character, exhibiting the outrageous manner in which Brigham Young, the Governor of the Mormons, is conducting himself. Some of these times the country will reap the result of the encouragement of these outlaws by the constituted authorities of the nation. Here is an extract from a discourse recently delivered by him:

I have no fears whatever of Franklin Pierce excusing me from office, and saying that another man shall be governor of this territory.

We have got a territorial government, and I am and will be the governor, and no power can hinder it, until the Lord Almighty says "Brigham, you need not be governor any longer," and then I am willing to yield to another. I have told you the truth about that.

It came into my mind when brother Bernhisel was speaking, and the same thing strikes me now, viz., inasmuch as he does first-rate as our delegate in Washington, I was going to move that we send him again next season, though it is the Sabbath day.

I understand those things, and say as other people say, "We are Mormons." We do things that are necessary to be done when the time comes for us to do them. If we wish to make political speeches, and it is necessary for the best interest of the cause and kingdom of God, to make them on the Sabbath, we do it. Brother Kimball has seconded the motion that Dr. Bernhisel be sent back to Washington as our delegate; all who are in favor of it raise your right hands.—[More than two thousand hands were at once seen above the heads of the congregation.] This has turned into a caucus meeting. It is all right. I would call for an opposite vote. I will try it, however. [Not a single hand was raised in opposition.]

I will now say, not only to our delegate to Congress, but to the elders that leave the body of the church.—He (our delegate) thought that all the cats and kittens were let out of the bag, When brother Pratt went back last fall and published the revelation concerning the plurality of wives, it was thought there was no other cat to let out; but allow me to tell you, elders of Israel and delegates to Congress, you may expect an eternity of cats, that have not yet escaped from the bag. Bless your souls, there is no end of them. For if there is not one thing, there will always be another.

MR. MUNSON'S BEQUESTS.—The late Alfred Munson, of Utica, has bequeathed $34,000 to the Utica Orphan Asylum, $5,000 of which is to be devoted to the erection of a suitable building. The bequest, however, is made on condition that the citizens of Utica raise $10,000 to purchase three acres within the city for a site for the Asylum &c., &c.

LABOR IN DEMAND.—The Watertown Chronicle, comes with a pressing call for more help.—It says that "more farmers, more mechanics, more day-laborers of all classes, are wanted, for good wages, and prompt pay."

VESSELS AROUND.—The staunch Schooner H. Hagar, Capt. ROBERT FITZGERALD, came in yesterday morning from Buffalo, being the first of our fleet to make the trip around, having accomplished it, including detention on the Flats, discharging loading, &c., in about 24 days. She brings 500 bbls. salt for McKAY.

The fine brig David Ferguson, Capt. STEWART came in very shortly after, (and was the first with her manifest at the Custom House.) She started some time before the Hagar, but was too early to get through the ice at once. Arriving at Buffalo, Capt. Stewart commenced discharging his cargo of 13000 bus wheat at 9 P. M. and at 10 P. M. of the same day was off on his return trip. She brings from Port Huron, 182 M. feet lumber, and 51 M. laths and 11 spars, besides 30 tons pig iron. She will load again for Buffalo immediately with flour and pork.

IMMIGRANTS.—After the Arctic arrived last evening, a long procession of German immigrants, mostly women and children, passed up East Water Street, on their way to that portion of the city, where their country men most do congregate. They looked fat and hearty, and glad to get to the end of their long journey from the fatherland.

The steamer Globe landed a large number of families of substantial New England farmers who have come out to settle among us. They come in colonies now from every part of New England and New York, bringing with them the sober and thrifty habits which have earned a comfortable living on less fertile lands, and are destined to make our prairies and openings blossom and bear abundant fruit for the benefit of the billigerent nations of the old world.

ARE HOUSES ON LEASED PROPERTY EXEMPT FROM EXECUTION?—One of the numerous lawyers of our city, was applied to yesterday, for an opinion, as to whether a house on leased ground, owned by a defendant in a civil suit, and against whom an execution had been issued, could be levied on by the officer, and taken to satisfy the debt, or is it exempt under the Homestead Act? A great deal of property is situated in a similar manner in this city. There would be as much profit, in discussing this question in the papers, as to discuss the propriety of attaching or detaching the letter s to or from the words Gent and Brick. "Fish Hooks" might enlighten the public on this subject, as no legal decision, or dictum, has yet been given on this point, under our Exemption Act.

A WISE PEOPLE.—We are informed by Mr. Smith, late postmaster at Waupun, Dodge Co. that the people of that fine town voted last Monday, by a handsome majority, to lend their credit to the amount of $50,000 to the Milwaukee & Horicon Railroad Co.

Steamer Sunk--Lives Lost.

The steamer Pike, from St. Louis to Louisville, sunk in the Ohio river on Friday last, and a large number of lives are said to have been lost. The "life-preservers" on board are stated to have been utterly useless.

From the New Orleans Crescent.

A Relict of the Revolution.

A MODEL WOMAN.—Of that venerable relict of nobler days and of a husband of one of the most admirable men that ever adorned and served any country—we mean Mrs Elizabeth Hamilton—we find in one of the Northern journals the following notice:

"The widow of Alexander Hamilton has reached the great age of ninety-five, and retains in an astonishing degree her faculties, and converses with much of that ease and brilliancy which lent so peculiar a charm to her younger days. And then the old lady, after passing the compliments and congratulations of the day, insists upon her visitors taking a merry glass from Gen. Washington's punch-bowl, which with other portions of his table-set, remains in her possession."

Mrs. Hamilton completes on the 16th of August next, we believe, her ninety-sixth year.—Slight of figure, rather small in size, and originally of what seemed a feeble organization, she has yet passed to her present remarkable age with an almost total exemption from disease, in spite of the severe misfortunes which overcast her life in its very prime. We allude to the bloody death first of her eldest son Philip, a young gentleman of great promise, and soon after the fall of her beloved lord, by what was nothing less than a deliberately executed assassination; for AARON BURR knew when, upon the mere pretence of a quarrel, he summoned General Hamilton to the field, that he would not decline to meet him, but would never take the life of a fellow-being in private combat.

To return, however, to his widow. Her admirable virtues and sense, with the firm yet gentle courage and cheerfulness which these bestowed, and a piety as simple as it was unshaken, have no doubt gone far to uphold by the forces of the mind the natural weakness of her body. When last we saw her, less than a year since, she was still in the habit of going on foot and unattended to visit friends who lived half a mile from her.—Two years before, we had seen her, in a very hot summer's day, arrive at her own house on H. street, Washington, (the Manou buildings,) from a morning's walk to visit her old friend, Judge Cranch, on Capitol Hill, to the east of the Capitol. The distance which she had trod for this friendly purpose is a good deal above three miles.

RENDER UNTO SCISSORS.—There is quite a curiosity in this city, evidently the work of a monomaniac. It is an octavo volume, elegantly bound in crimson morocco, and gilt and gold edged, profusely. Its paper is a delicate note, hot pressed and of the finest quality, with each page handsomely and elaborately ruled, in pink, with flower wreaths. The title page has been executed with a pen and red ink, and is a surprisingly clever performance.

But what do you think is the contents of the work? Nothing but the word scissors! That is, it contains (written with a pen) 23,440 changes in the spelling of the word "scissors," each change of course preserving something of the original sound, but differing in its letters from those that compose the original. Accompanying it, on a large sheet of exquisitely prepared fine linen, is a written synopsis and calculation of the syllabic changes in each column.

The whole thing is a perfect monument of human labor, patience and taste; though why the author should have wasted so much precious time and talent in order to "render unto scissors the things which are scissors," surpasses our comprehension. Half the toil, tact and perseverance invested in any other pursuit, even in roasting peanuts, would probably have made his fortune. —Y. N. Democrat.

A WAR FOR CUBA.—The moment the Nebraska Iniquity is consummated, if it should be consummated, the Administration will seek to distract public attention from that abhorred deed by getting up a row with Spain. Whether this will be pushed to the point of actual War is not yet certain; but the President and his advisers hope and expect it will. They have resolved to impose on the feeble and decrepit Spanish Government conditions which cannot be accepted without disgrace, and insist on every iota of them to the last. Should Spain refuse them, War is to be made, and Cuba seized if possible—and the projectors entertain no doubt of our ability to overrun and subjugate that island in six weeks from the declaration—at all event, before any reenforcements from Spain can reach it. This achievement, by adding about a fifth to the slaveholding territory and population of the Union, is to unite the South under the flag of Pierce & Co., and drown the Nebraska excitement at the North, in the cry of "Our Country, right or wrong?—Hurrah for Cuba and manifest destiny!" Such, we are well assured, is the programme agreed on at the White House; and it is an even chance that we shall be at war with Spain on the 1st of July. —N. Y. Tribune.

UNIVERSITY STUDENTS.—Such has been the unexpected rush of students, during the present term, that new boarding-houses have been opened. The large "Edgarton House" has been fitted up for the accommodation of students, and still all have been filled; and the arrival of new comers is the announcement of every day.—Appleton Crescent.

MARRIAGE OF KATE HAYES.—The regular California correspondent of the Boston Journal reports the marriage of Kate Hayes to Capt. WM. E. BUSHNELL, a popular river steamboat captain.

Good Looks and Bad Legislation.

"THE GREEN BAY ADVOCATE."—This is one of the handsomest papers that we find upon our table. It is neatly printed upon good type, and is in all respects an elegant looking paper. It is only to be regretted that Mr. ROBINSON, in his absence, should leave a substitute whose principal business appears to be to abuse democrats and furnish second-hand articles for whig papers.—We wonder if Mr. ROBINSON, when he gets home, will justify his protegee?—Madison Argus & Democrat of the 28th ult.

Thanking our co-temporary at the capital for its fine compliments to our "good looks," we too must express our regret that it should preach so poor a sermon from what it seems to regard so fair a text. We supposed public journalists had other duties to discharge beside praising all the time even the good deeds of any administration, or attempting to smooth over its questionable ones—thus trying to make black appear white, and white no color at all, if need be. At the close of the Legislature, we frankly gave our opinion as to what we regarded its character, after a calm and impartial review of its whole proceedings, as they presented themselves to our minds. It was not without reluctance we felt compelled to say some things a sense of justice would not allow us to withhold. Some judicious and salutary acts were passed—those we approved. Other measures were suggested, and some adopted, which we deemed wrong—those we condemned. There were many able, fair, and public-spirited members of both the Senate and Assembly—those we spoke of in terms their patriotic services merited. What was all this but exercising that very right of free speech which the "organ" would chant to the skies if it was exercised to suit its taste.—We made no allusion whatever to the official conduct of any of the members of the State Administration, though we freely confess some things have been done which can pass uncensured only while they pass unnoticed. Now if we have mistaken the proper objects of blame, it would be a mere honorable course for the official paper to point out our errors, and thus afford us a grateful opportunity to correct them, than to try to tickle and scratch at the same moment—breaking the force of the arrow by disclaiming the hand that threw it. Truth is truth, no matter where it comes from; and until we have proof to the contrary, we shall continue to believe the last the most extravagant and reckless legislature that ever assembled in Wisconsin, because it made a more unscrupulous use of the public money than any other. It would afford us sincere pleasure to give unqualified approbation to an administration claiming to be Democratic, which we sincerely labored to place in power as such, if it had not sanctioned or countenanced some measures it is impossible for us to favor or defend. We do not know what obligations we are under to wade through every political quagmire crossing our path, whether thick or thin, shallow or deep.—Green Bay Advocate. (dem.)

Amongst the Wonders of the Day.

We have visited with considerable gratification the repertoire of foreign newspapers of all nations at Holloway's Pill, and Ointment Establishment, 244 Strand, which present an immense amount of information on all subjects, political, mercantile, statistical, and philosophical, from at least 2,000 foreign papers received at this establishment in the course of each week. This immense collection of Journals affords in the great city advantages to the enterprising capitalists, and commercial world generally, a source of intelligence most invaluable and never before attained. The establishment is visited by the nobility, members of parliament, contributors of the press, mercantile men, and also by an immense number of distinguished foreigners of all nations. It is managed by several clerks, who classify and file the papers in portfolios, which they exhibit to gratuitously to respectable visitors applying for information.—Morning Herald, London, January 23, 1854.

It is said Miss DIX is determined to give to the public certain revelation concerning the indigent insane lane bill that will place Gen. Pierce in a pap....—N. Y. Herald.

She can do it. We have high authority for saying that Miss DIX, after more than one long interview with the President upon the subject of the indigent insane land bill, spoke of him as having promised her to support the measure, and that she left Washington City under the full and distinct impression that he would keep his promise. He scatters his promises around him with the most reckless profusion and thinks no more about them. He imagines that he does quite enough in making a promise without troubling himself to pay any attention to it afterwards.—Louisville Journal.

A Treaty of Peace.

The Montreal Herald announces that the British and Russian Fur Companies, and the Hudson Bay Company, through Gov. SIMPSON, and the Russian Company at Sitka, have already had an understanding that they will not go to war because their home sovereigns have drawn the sword. The neutrality, as we understand it, does not insure either settlement against the forces of the adverse nation, but only extends to making each of them non combatants as respects the other.

SALE OF REAL ESTATE.—LINUS R. Cady sold the undivided one half of eighty acres, lying in the eastern part of the city, one day last week, for $5,000. He refuses to sell his interest in the other half for a like sum. Henry Williams and others, of Milwaukee, were the purchaser.—Watertown Chronicle

Boy Lost.

JOHN MORON, a boy about 11 years of age, small of his age, left Berlin, Marquette Co. about the first of February, worked for some farmer in the neighborhood of Ripon for a short time and then was seen to leave Ripon for home, since which time his widowed mother has learned nothing from him.

Any information in regard to the boy, left at this office or directed to the Post Master at Berlin will be liberally rewarded.—Ripon Herald.

A REMNANT OF ANCIENT SUPERSTITION.—A German, known as Dutch Charlie, was recently murdered in Colorado county, Texas. As the body was surrounded by people, an Irishman proposed that those present should successively place their hands upon the body of the deceased believing that, wherever the murderer touched it the wound would commence bleeding anew. The suggestion was acted upon, and, says a correspondent of the Richmond (Texas) Inquirer, as soon as a man named Hiltebrant applied his hand, the blood began to flow. Hiltebrant was arrested, and shortly afterwards committed suicide by hanging himself.

The Spiritualists have congregated in much force in the city of Washington, for the purpose of improving the theological sentiments of Congressmen. Nightly meetings are held, over which N. P. Tallmadge presides.

In New Holland, before a girl is given to her husband, two of her front teeth are knocked out; the happy lover then throws a kangaroo skin over her shoulders, spits in her face several times, marks her with painted stripes of different colors, orders her to carry his provision bag to his hut, and if she does not go fast enough to please him, gives her a few kicks by the way.

☞A valuable work has recently been added to the Library of Congress—a complete file of the London Gazette, from 1656 to the present time. This is the only complete file in existence. The Library of the British Museum made several ineffectual attempts to obtain this work, but the prize was borne off by Brother Jonathan. The Gazette has been for two hundred years the journal of the British government, and in it are published all civil, military, and naval appointments; resignations, deaths, and dismissals—all bankruptcies; proclamations, ordinances and despatches from military and naval officers in command on foreign stations.—N. Y. Com. & Enq.

A FINE OLD IRISH GENTLEMAN—"ONE OF THE BALE OLD STOCK."—The Dublin Freeman says:—"Owen Duffey of Monaghan county is 122 years old. When 116 he lost his second wife, and subsequently married a third, by whom he had a son and daughter. His youngest son is two years old, his eldest ninety. He still retains in much vigor, his mental and corporeal faculties, and frequently walks to the county town, a distance of eight miles." Blarney!

CURIOUS.—On exhuming the body of General Wooster at Danbury, on the 27th ult., the bullet which caused his death was found with his remains, although the surgeons who attended him after he was wounded were unable to find it. It was deposited under the cap-stone of the monument with other papers and relics, but has since been taken out and forwarded to the Connecticut Historical Society at Hartford.—Boston. Courier.

THE WEATHER.—The fine rain we had last Saturday has removed the fear drouth, and given of vegetation new life. Crops look fine so far, and the present prospects of Wisconsin, if we may believe the news from abroad, are better than any other State in the Union for a great harvest.—Janesville Standard

IN SELF DEFENCE.—Resolutions have been adopted by the Medical Society of Berks County, Pa., directing the members of the Society to furnish to their Secretary a list of such of their patients as do not pay their doctors' bills.

BUFFALO, May. 16.

The 10½ train on Central railroad ran into another train near this city. Locomotive Dean Richmond and several cars smashed. Several persons were badly injured; one man killed. James Lanesbur, of Troy, had lower part of his body smashed. Accident caused by the carelessness of men making up freight train and leaving them on the track.

From the London Daily News

Mechanical Skill in the United States and England.

A pleasant and most profitable lesson may be gleaned from some official facts just brought fresh from the shores of Brother Jonathan. These facts are to be found in the reports of the Commissioners to the exhibition at New York. They give no encouragement "to the vain-glorious conviction that England has nothing more to do," and make it plain that the true business of patriotism now,—next after the momentary urgent demands on it for purposes of war,—is to promote the intelligence of the multitude, and increase the national skill in all the wealth creating arts. From the special reports of Messrs. Whitworth and Wallis, the truth gleams on us, almost like a revelation, that the pre-eminence of our country is only to be maintained by increasing freedom.

The growing superiority of the Americans on many points can neither be concealed nor denied. They surpass England, and therefore far surpass all the world, in the length, and in the success of their railways. They have according to the American Railway Times, 17,811 miles of rail; and all the rest of the world, including England has only 18,159. They have gone to work with good sense, and have studied economy and the speedy completion of the roads." "A single line of rail," says Mr. Whitworth, "hailed down to transverse logs, and a train at rare intervals, was deemed to be sufficient as a commencement, and as traffic increases additional improvements can be made." They have not wasted, like the well educated gentlemen of England, an immense capital on architectural railway ornaments and in Parliamentary litigation, and the result is that railways are successfully carried into every part of the land. The American rails are excellent properties. To these railway lines, also, which make the communication with the interior of America more easy than communication with the interior of Spain, Europe is at this moment indebted for the large supplies of food which have saved the people from hunger.

The Americans surpass us also in the length of their telegraphs and in the use which they make them. They have, says Mr. Whitworth, 15,000 miles. There are eleven different telegraph companies in New York. Quebec and New Orleans are connected by the wire, and a net work of lines extend to the west as far as Missouri, about 500 towns and villages being provided with stations. When the contemplated lines connecting California with the Atlantic, and Newfoundland with the main continent, are completed, San Francisco will be in communication with St. John's, Newfoundland, distant from Galway but five days' passage. It is therefore, estimated that intelligence may be conveyed from the Pacific to Europe, and vice versa, in about six days. In America, "the electric telegraph is used by all classes of society as an ordinary method of transmitting intelligence." "Commercial men use the electric telegraph in their transactions to a very great extent." About two columns of matter a day is transmitted by telegraph to the New York papers. So under the guidance of good sense the 15,000 miles of telegraph are not an unprofitable commercial speculation. The Americans, who, as Mr. Burke said, are "still in the gristle," almost equal us who have been ages "in the bone," in the tonnage of their merchant shipping, while they completely equal, if they do not surpass us, in constructing and managing ships. In ocean steam navigation they are our only competitors, and even in that they are not behind us.

The application of labor-saving machinery to working wood is very extensive in America. An abundance of the material and a scarcity of hands have led to inventions which people in England are beginning to import. The saw-mills are wonderful; self-acting machinery makes doors, and window-frames, and cases. Builders are supplied with such articles cheaper than you can make them. Portable sawing machines, driven by horse-power, are used for sawing up logs for fuel. Planing machines are in common use. "The character given to one branch of manufacture has gradually extended to others. Applied to stone-dressing one man is enabled to perform as much work as twenty masons by hand." In the United States one spinner by machinery does more than 3,000 times the work of a spinner in Hindostan. Lasts are made by machinery; so are ploughs.

Every man in America being perfectly free to keep his wagon, the use of wagons is almost universal. What an advance for England if every man could keep his wagon! "The manufacture of wagons supports a great number of wheel-wrights and artisans of that class." So to have wagons perfectly untaxed raises up, as amongst us the free cotton trade has raised up, important and intelligent classes of workmen.

We might copy from every page of these instructive reports examples of the great progress which the Americans have made in all the essential arts, which it is now the duty of patriotism to promote; but it is not our purpose to make a catalogue of their great successes. We must rather point attention to causes. Both the Commissioners make us sensible that the success of the Americans is far less due to the assistance they have derived from Europe, than from freedom and their own native intelligence. Wherever machinery can be introduced, says Mr. Whitworth, as a substitute for manual labor, it is universally and willingly resorted to. "The workmen hail with satisfaction all mechanical improvements." Now, this is the reverse of the disposition of the people of Europe, and it is justly traced by Mr. Whitworth to the scarcity of hands in America. "It is," he says, "the condition of the labor market, and this eager resort to machinery, wherever it can be applied, to which, under the guidance of superior education and intelligence, the remarkable prosperity of the United States is mainly due."

KILLED HIMSELF IN A FIT OF PASSION.—A suicide of rather a strange character took place recently in the little village of Hamiltown, in Millcreek township, about six miles from the city.—A man named Leonard Houslet, was engaged in moulding candles, but the moulds leaking, he became enraged, and after a series of curses, seized a shot gun, and rushing to a shed in the yard, deliberately cocked the gun, placed the muzzle to his breast, and expired in a few minutes. Houslet's wife was present during this horrible affair, but was so shocked by his expressions of rage that, through fear of her own life, she was prevented from thwarting her husband in his self-murder.—Cin. Enq.

THE WASHINGTON MONUMENT.—The Washington Globe says that the height of this monument is at present about one hundred and fifty-two feet. Owing to the smallness of the force employed—there being but thirty men, including masons and stone cutters—and the want of funds, the work does not progress so rapidly as it ought. —Last year but twenty-six feet were added to the height of the monument, and this year there will be added probably not more than thirty or thirty-five feet. At such a rate, ten years at least will be required to complete its erection. The Globe adds:

"The number of stones contributed by the different States, associations, &c., up to the present time, is about one hundred and ninety, of which there are seventy in the obelisk. These are arranged in a conspicuous and systematic manner, and will be visible to the visitor, who, as he ascends the staircase, can examine them at his leisure. All of the States, we believe, have now contributed blocks."

STEAMBOATS ON THE WISCONSIN.—The Clarion and Enterprise are now running regularly between Galena and this city, stopping at Mappa's warehouse. We understand that the business of the river pays well.

The Clarion is a new and beautiful boat, handsomely finished and furnished, and officered by as gentlemanly men as any afloat. A trip on the river now must be delightful; and if any of our friends from abroad are bound on a pleasure excursion they can do no more sensible thing than to come to Portage, some bright Monday, and take the Clarion on Tuesday for a trip to the famous Dells of the Wisconsin. The beauty and sublimity of the scenery is unequalled in the State; and freshness yet unhackneyed and unvisited by the vermin that infest the fashionable watering places of the east. Here, for the present a person can enjoy the beauties of nature without the unpleasant companionship of fapiings and flirts. How long this condition of things will last is quite uncertain.—Portage City Badger State.

The Nebraska Bill—The Effect of its Passage.

From the Albany (N. Y.) Register.

When this great wrong shall have been consummated, when the violation of faith, the nullifying of solemn compacts shall have been perpetrated by the passage of this Nebraska Bill, what good will the South have gained, to counterpoise all the outraged feeling, the forfeited confidence, the angry dissension, the commotion and agitation which will be sure to follow? What equivalent will the South have gained, for the bonds of fraternal regard sundered, and for having placed the people of the North in square, open, and united opposition against the people of the South? Has any man the madness to suppose that Nebraska or Kansas can come into the Union as a slave State?—that they will restore the equilibrium, between the slave representation and free representation, in the Senate of the United States? It seems to us that such an idea is nothing short of the most stupendous folly.—Pass this Nebraska bill, and the next House of Representatives will not have ten members from the free States, who are not pledged against the admission of another slave State into the Union; and in the next Senate there will not be one Senator from the free States, who will not be under the same pledge. And what will be thus true of the next House and the next Senate, will be true through all time. What, then, will the passage of this Nebraska Bill be, but a barren triumph; or rather, what will it be, but ruinous to the South, by the recoil?

It may be that the strength of this Union has got to be tested one day, by the agitation of this question of slavery. Wise men have prophesied that a great struggle, on this subject, is inevitable. That the time must come, when a collision between freedom and slavery, between free institutions and slave institutions, between slave labor and free labor, must take place; and when it comes the great hour of trial for this republic will have come. If the Union survives the shock, it will have passed the great and terrible danger which has been growing more and more stupendous, since the day that the Union was formed. If this be true, then it may be best that the great ordeal should be encountered now. The free sentiment of the north has given away, till its back has come to the wall. Compromises have been consented to for the sake of peace. Compacts have been entered into, yielding largely to the demands of slavery, for the sake of harmony. If these compromises are to be broken, if slavery insists upon moving forward forever, jostling and pushing aside free labor, then much as we deprecate strife, much as we prize harmony, we say let the great test be applied now. Let the momentous struggle be got now. Let free men and free institutions stand firmly up and say 'that the area of slavery shall not be enlarged one inch. IF STRIFE SHALL ENSUE, THEN STRIFE BE IT. The responsibility will not rest with the free States. They will have done all in their power to avoid it. They will have stood by the south to the verge of the Constitution, liberally and generously construed. They will have given to slavery all and more than all guaranteed to it by that sacred instrument. They have defended it when assailed through the Constitution. But when slavery becomes aggressive; when it insists upon marching forward and spreading itself over territory consecrated by law and by solemn compacts to freedom, to free labor and free institutions, all obligations are at an end, and the free people of the north should denounce and resist it as the greatest enemy to human progress, as at war with all the interests of civilization, and utterly antagonist to the spirit of the age.

A Day and Night in the House.

On Thursday 11th, Mr. Richardson, (dem.) of Ill., offered a resolution that the debate on the Nebraska bill shall terminate to-morrow at twelve o'clock. He moved the previous question.

Mr. Taylor, of Tenn.—Did I not understand the gentleman to say yesterday that he would not press the motion, if the enemies of the bill desire further time in which to make speeches?

Mr. Richardson—I said the time at which I proposed to terminate the debate would depend on the opponents of the bill—I think that is all I said: and that if they showed a disposition to debate the bill, I would give as much time as possible before reaching the special order.

Mr. Giddings, (free soil,) of Ohio, wished to ask a question; but permission was denied from all parts of the House. He said, however amid the confusion, that the house were seven months debating the admission of California as a State, and now only four days were to be allowed for discussing this measure. He hoped the reporters would publish his words.

Mr. Edgerton said, there are 234 members of the House, and he knew of no reason why ten, or forty should be precluded from the debate.—He asked for a modification, extending the time to Saturday, at twelve o'clock.

Mr. Stephens, (whig) of Ga., said that the friends of the Nebraska bill are willing to postpone the Pacific Railroad bill if the friends of the Nebraska bill desire free debate; but if the friends of that measure will not consent the friends must sit it out all night. If you want liberal and full debate, say so; if faction, we will meet you in faction.

Mr. Davis, (dem.) of R. I. desired all should be heard without involving night sessions. He did not admit the right of any gentleman to curtail him of his rights. The country expects it shall be fully discussed. The enemies of the bill will resist to the last, because they think it their right so to do.

Mr. Washburn (whig) of Me. rose to make a suggestion, saying, if the friends of the bill desire fair and full discussion within decent hours, let them come forward and make a proposition to the foes of the measure to postpone the debate on the Nebraska bill until the special order shall have been executed.

Much confusion sprang up, several gentlemen declaring Mr. Washburn out of order.

Mr. Sage said the House having voted against laying the resolutions to terminate the debate on the table, it afforded an indication that the resolution would pass. I am unwilling that important business shall be laid aside for a measure that is not pressing. I was surprised on Monday when the House laid aside other important bills for the one now pending. [Cries of "order." "order."] I shall resist every attempt to stifle debate in every legitimate way, and I think the country will sustain me. I am not to be intimidated and will assert my rights. I think the Pacific Railroad bill is more important than this swindle, which has been thrown upon the country.

Mr. Benton—(dem.) of Mo., wanted to know what the question was.

The Speaker with great particularity explained it.

Mr. Benton—Then enter me as a permanent objector to postponing the Pacific Railroad bill. [Laughter.]

Mr. Florence, (dem.) of Pa.—Now, let us go on and sit it out.

A Voice—You must have had your dinner, Colonel. ["Ha! ha!"]

Thus the battle waged amid motions to adjourn, calls of the House, and a general muss, until four o'clock, when Mr. Orr relieved the Speaker of the duties of the chair.

Mr. Goodrich moved that the House adjourn; Yeas 40, nays 86—no quorum, the majority having slipped off to dinner.

Mr. Richardson moved that there should be a call of the House.

Mr. Dean coming in, asked leave to vote, saying he had just come from dinner.

The House was called, and the doors closed to hear excuses for absentees.

Mr. Dean made an ineffectual motion that all further proceedings in the call be dispensed with.

Mr. Washburn, (of Me.) and Messrs. Sage and Edmonds, from time to time made motions to adjourn, but unsuccessfully.

The House proceeded to hear excuses for absentees. A motion was made to excuse Mr. Appleton on account of sickness in his family.

Mr. Bayly asked if the gentleman should not be excused, whether it would not be the imperative duty of the Sergeant-at-arms to go after him?

The Speaker replied—That depends upon the action of the House.

Mr. Appleton was excused, only two voting nay.

Mr. Hilyer, (dem.) of Ga., moved that all proceedings on the call be dispensed with.

Thus the tumult continued until 6½ o'clock.

A flood of light now pours over the Hall from the chandelier. The galleries are filling up.

Mr. Hughes moved that the House adjourn.

While the vote was being taken on this question, many members were eating their dinners in the lobbies, while others were reposing on chairs and sofas, strengthening themselves for a long contest. Mr. Dean is engaged reading Cubs and the Cubans.

Mr. Sage moved that the House adjourn till Monday. Negatived.

Mr. Washburn, (of Ill.) moved that the House adjourn.

Mr. Breckenridge asked the Chair what was the pending question.

The Speaker, who had by this time returned from dinner, replied—On seconding the demand for the previous question on the resolution submitted this morning by the gentleman from Illinois, (Mr. Richardson.)

Mr. Bishop Perkins said he would make a proposition to end this sort of matter now going on. (Laughter and cries of "Hear him.") It was to allow the debate to proceed for one week, and direct the Clerk to notify the three thousand and fifty clergymen, who sent up a remonstrance against the Nebraska bill, to come here at their own expense, and indulge one hour every morning in prayer for the successful despatch of business. [Excessive laughter.] As soon as they all get through with their prayers, the House will be in a proper temper and disposition to take the question up and do justice to it. [Very loud "ha ha's," in which the galleries joined.]

The galleries are crowded, and not a few members are snoozing in the lobbies.

Repeated motions; such as to adjourn—to be excused from voting, and for a call of the House, and for the yeas and nays, the clerks, hoarse with calling the roll.

Thus stood the war at 10½ o'clock at night. Spectators deserting the galleries—members constantly going out for meat and drink, while others ate their lunch in the Hall. An amusing private scene occurred in the lobby. The members arranged themselves at Captain Stewart's table to partake of a basket of victuals, and to wash down with something in a bottle. Having no cork-screw, they were in a quandary and concluded to retire and break the neck of the bottle out of doors. They came in afterwards, refreshed and considerably elated. Not a few segars were smoked in the rear of the Speaker's chair in the lobby. Meantime, the interesting process of calling the yeas and nays was going on in the hall.

Mr. Dean said, the morning hour having expired, he moved that the House resolve itself into Committee of the Whole on the State of the Union.

The Speaker said the motion was not in order, pending the proposition to close the debate.

Mr. Dean—I thought a Nebraska speech at this hour would be refreshing. Other questions were decided by the yeas and nays.

Mr. Cobb—I will offer an olive branch at this late hour.

Cries of "No, no." "Go it." "What is it?" "Hear him." "Question" "Let's have your olive branch."

Mr. Cobb—It is connected with the question before the House.

Mr. Richardson said he proposed to modify his resolution.

Mr. Campbell objected, amid cries of "Hear him." "hear him."

The Speaker said the resolution was in the possession of the mover.

Mr. Richardson, modified it as as to close the debate on the Nebraska bill in five minutes after the House shall again go into committee, and moved the previous question.

Messrs. Washburn (of Me.) and Dean, at the same time, moved an adj

POLICE COURT, MAY 17th.

BEFORE CLINTON WALWORTH, ESQ., POLICE JUSTICE

BREAKING THE PEACE.—Edward Thornbury, Catharine Thornbury and Elizabeth Bowler were brought down from jail by constable Ryan, to be examined on a charge of breaking the peace.—Evidence was given by the neighbors showing that the defendants had kept the neighborhood in an uproar day and night for the past several months, with drunken brawls. The court required them to give bail in the sum of $100 each for their good behaviour for one month; adding, "I put this for one month, hoping you will get weaned from whiskey in that time, and behave yourselves when you come out. If this does'nt effect the purpose, I shall inflict a far heavier punishment the next time; I'm determined to have peace in that neighborhood if I can." The defendants were unable to give bail and were taken to prison.

The three defendants in the above case are confirmed, abandoned drunkards; the woman Thornbury has been a frequent visitor at the police court, and the cause of enormous expense to the county, several times in the county poor house, from madness brought on by drunkenness, and still more frequently in jail for disturbing the peace while in that state. But after all, are not those to blame, who, knowing the habits and the desires for drunkenness of these people, for supplying them with liquor? It does seem, that those who furnish them liquor, knowing they have no power to control their drunken propensities, are as much, if not more guilty of crime, than the wretched and debased victims of an inordinate appetite. No less than eight cases of drunken women, have occurred within the past week and in some of them, but for accident, murder has nearly taken place.

A warrant was issued against Catharine Egan, on complaint of Peter R. Storm, for stealing a piece of Mouslin de Laine, about 30 yards, and two pieces of calico, of the value, in all, of ten dollars, the property of John D. Gardiner; the defendant was in jail.

Edward Thornbury gave bail during the afternoon and was discharged from custody.

NOTICE.

On Wednesday, Oct. 14th, I shall have the Pedigree and Terms for the season of the Comet Morgan Horse (lately brought from Vermont by me) printed and bound, ready for those wishing to call on him the first season, with their names. Season to commence the second day of April, and end the 31st day of July. He is limited for the season at fifty-two mares, two of them my own. It is claimed by those owning the Black Hawk Stock that he is not high in Vermont, that the original Black Hawk was sired by the Old Sherman Morgan, the grand sire of my horse. If so, the same cross blood can be raised in this State, and at a far less expense than to import them from Vermont; that was one reason for my bringing Comet Morgan West His pedigree is fully authenticated.

VALUABLE FARM FOR SALE.

THE UNDERSIGNED OFFERS FOR SALE

ONE OF THE MOST DESIRABLE FARMS

In the State of Wisconsin.

IT CONTAINS one hundred and forty-six acres, is well watered, rich fertile soil, provided with timber and meadow land, and is under a good state of cultivation. It is situated between two of the main thoroughfares leading out of Madison (the County Seat of Dane County, and the Capital of the State of Wisconsin) one and a half miles from the State House, and one mile from the University. The location is on an elevated plain, giving an excellent view of the Town, "Third" and "Fourth Lake" and the high rolling Prairies, fifteen to twenty miles distant, making it one of the most desirable country residences in the whole Western States. Its proximity to the Capital will make it a convenient residence for one doing business in the city or to the agricultural purposes alone, and for an investment will result in great pecuniary advantage. The farm is known in and about Madison as the "Gorham Farm." A large part of the purchase money may remain on Bond and Mortgage if desired. Any enquiries by mail respecting the above farm will be promptly answered. LEONARD J. FARWELL.

We have done well for the last four years. The Register is published on the advance system, Independent and Progressive, and is firmly established. Our servicesin the Editorial Department can be had if desired. Our only reason for selling is because our other property requires the most of our time. Price $3,500. Address "E. B. The Bliss of Marriage!

THE WAY TO THE ALTAR.—MATRIMONY MADE EASY; Or, How to WIN A LOVER.

"Love ye the flowers, the cool, the grove,
For love is Heaven, and Heaven is love."
So sang the bard; yet thousands pine
For love—or life the light divine—
Who did they know its gentle charm,
The hearts of those they love to warm,
Might live, might die, in bliss supreme,
Possessing all of which they dream.
The road to Wedlock would you know,
Delay not, but to ROUNDOUT go.
Time flies and from his gloomy wings
A shadow falls on all things;
Then seize the moments as they pass,
Ere fall the last sands through the glass;
At least the present is your own,
While all the future's Wedlock unknown.
A happy marriage man or maid
May now secure by ROUNDOUT'S aid.

Professor Wells, of New York, formerly of Sweden, where he has been the means of bringing about thousands of happy marriages, will send to any address, on receipt of ONE DOLLAR, post paid, plain directions to enable Ladies or Gentlemen to win the affections of as many of the opposite sex as they may desire. The process is so simple, but so captivating, that all may be married, irrespective of age, appearance or position; and last, though not least, he will arrange it with the utmost secrecy and delicacy. Address Professor ROUNDOUT, No. 96, 48th st., New York City, post paid.

I have reasons, also, why any person advertising themselves as such are vile swindlers, and I will prosecute them to the law direct.

N. B.—This is no humbug, but one of the greatest sciences the world ever produced, which thousands of Ladies and gentlemen in the City of New York can attest to. No one will ever regret the price paid for such an invaluable secret, which is contained in a book of 100 pages. All letters properly sealed and plainly directed may be sent at the Professor's risk. my31-3mowly MoD

THE

BUFFALO EAGLE IRON WORKS CO.

Propose to pay Particular attention to Architectural Iron Work.

WE are prepared to Manufacture IRON FRONTS for Stores and Public Buildings, with the Patent Fire Proof Rolling Shutters.

These Shutters are the same that are now so generally used in New York, and may be put in any Window, Small or Large, and if arranged before erection of the building, may be used without in the least affecting the style of Architecture. They make the only perfect Fire Proof Shutters, and do not appear to be so much when rolled up.

Having decided to sell furnish the Plan for Store Fronts, (with or without the Patent Shutter,) with estimate for the Cost of the work finished ready for delivery. To our Western friends we think this arrangement desirable, for they thus are enabled to know without experiment what the Front is to be, and what it is to cost.

When the Patent Shutters are used we will furnish a man to superintend the erection of the Iron Front and the setting of the Shutter.

THE ROAD TO HEALTH!

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.

These Pills being composed entirely of medicinal herbs as of a most harmless nature, while the extraordinary virtues they possess have rendered them universally popular in nearly every part of the world. The immense success they have met with throughout the States is most extraordinary, owing, it is presumed, to their wonderful efficacy in the cure of Dilitous complaints and disorders of the Liver and Stomach. Persons who preserve in using them in accordance with the directions, seldom fail in being restored to health.

WEAKNESS AND DEBILITY.—RESTORATION TO HEALTH OF A GENTLEMAN, AGED 45, WHEN AT DEATH'S DOOR.

Copy of a Letter from Mr. Charles Smith, dated Norton, St. Philips, near Bath, Somerestshire, 17th August, 1853.

To PROFESSOR HOLLOWAY,

Sir,—Mr. Joseph Paxton, formerly a resident of this place, had been in a declining state of health for upwards of three years, gradually wasting away to a shadow by nightly perspirations and want of appetite, which caused great uneasiness to his friends. He consulted various medical men in Bath, without effect. He at last used your Pills, and under providence was restored to health by their means. He lately emigrated to New York, and has just written to say, that he has never better in health, and desired me to acquaint you with the circumstance. I ought also to mention, that my wife had derived great benefit from the use of your Pills.

I remain, Sir, yours respectfully,
CHARLES SMITH, Dissenting Minister.

A PERMANENT CURE OF A DISEASED LIVER, OF NEARLY TWELVE YEARS DURATION.

Copy of a Letter from Mr. Gamie, Chemist, Yeovil, to Professor Holloway.

Dear Sir—In this district your Pills command a more extensive sale than any other proprietary medicine before the public. As a proof of their efficacy in Liver and Bilious Complaints I may mention the following case. A lady of this town with whom I am personally acquainted, was a severe sufferer from disease of the Liver and digestive organs; her medical attendant assured her that he could do nothing to relieve her sufferings, and it was an illness she could survive only months. This announcement naturally caused great alarm among her friends and relations, and they induced her to make a trial of your Pills, which so improved her health that she was able to walk about in a few days, and until she received a perfect cure. This is twelve months ago, and she has not experienced any symptoms of relapse, and often declares the cure Pills have been the means of saving her life.

I remain, Dear Sir, yours truly,
(Signed) J. GAMIS.

These celebrated Pills are wonderfully efficacious in the following complaints:

Ague	Dropsy	Liver Complaints	Secondary Symptoms
Asthma	Dysentery	Lumbago	The Deuloreux
Bilious Complaints	Erysipelas	Piles	Tumours
Blotches on the Skin	Female Irregularities	Rheumatism	Ulcers
Bowel Complaints	Fevers of all kinds	Retention of Urine	Venereal Affections
Colics	Gout	Scrofula, or King's Evil	Worms of all kinds
Constipation of the Bowels	Head Ache	Sore Throats	Weakness
Debility	Indigestion	Stone and Gravel	from whatever cause, &c.

PATENT MEDICINES.

Caution!

To Those Who Use Spirituous Liquors Either as a Beverage or Medicine!

WOLFE'S

Schiedam Aromatic Schnapps.

THE ABOVE NAMED PREPARATION has become extensively known throughout the length and breadth of the United States and is universally admitted to be the most delightful, healthful, invigorating, and pure preparation of the juniper berry, that science and a long practice in the distillation and preparation of pure liquors have ever succeeded in producing.

A long established manufacturer and importer of liquors of every description, the undersigned devoted himself to the production of an article of pure gin, which should prove a valuable agent in the cure of the manifold diseases which afflict the human race, and for which Holland gin has been prescribed by the medical faculty for years. At length his efforts were crowned with success, at his extensive distillery in Schiedam, Holland, from which place the purest gin has long been imported, and he was enabled to give to the world his Schnapps, which, for purity and entire freedom from all deleterious and fusel oil and all other noxious ingredients, and delightful aromatic flavor, has never been equalled, and cannot be excelled.

In order to protect himself from pecuniary loss at the hands of cheap, impotent, and spurious articles, he would unquestionably attempt to palm off a vile and spurious article upon the unsuspecting community, and, like the wolf in sheep's clothing, prey upon their very vitals, he resorted to the expedient of importing and selling his Schnapps only in pint and quart bottles.

These bottles are of glass, stamped with the name of the manufacturer; are corked. You have not to wait days, weeks or months to see the signature of Udolpho Wolfe upon them. They are enclosed in colored wrappers, also bearing his signature, in which form alone they can be obtained in essence, pertaining to the genuine article.

Notwithstanding all these guards, unprincipled parties have been found guilty of the unwarrantable and criminal practice of buying up empty bottles, filling them with vile common gin, which is sold as and for the genuine article, which a community was ever cursed, and sends thousands to a wretched drunkard's grave yearly.
